WHAT IS MENTAL ILLNESS?

Serious, long-term mental illness describes disorders that cause severe disturbances in thinking, feeling and relating that result in a substantially diminished capacity for coping with the ordinary demands of life. Mental illness may affect anyone, regardless of age, sex, race, income, religion or education. One in every five Americans experiences an episode of mental illness at least once in a lifetime or experiences numerous or persistent episodes. In fact, people with mental illness occupy more hospital beds than people with any other illness.

There are many types of mental illness. Serious mental illnesses include schizophrenia, depression and manic depression. Symptoms of mental illness are varied and each person experiences it differently. Current research indicates that many severe mental illnesses are biological diseases that interfere with normal brain function. Genetic factors, family history, psychological or social factors, chronic medical illness, substance abuse and severe traumatic life crises can create a predisposition to mental illness. Mental illness is not the result of a lack of "willpower" or weak character. Mental illness can strike at any age, even when a child is very young or in elderly people.

Since making a definitive diagnosis of mental illness during childhood is very difficult, particularly as children may have learning disabilities and other neurological problems as well, the federal government and many professionals use only the term emotional disturbance when referring to mental health problems in children. Emotional disturbance varies in seriousness and may result in functional disability in several life spheres, such as an inability to function socially at an appropriate level, to exhibit appropriate behavioral controls and judgment, and to perform academically at grade level. Homelessness, or being a victim of or witness to physical or sexual abuse, neglect or violent behavior at home or in the community can also contribute to emotional disturbance.

Researchers continue to pursue the study of how biochemical, psychological, genetic and environmental factors interact and contribute to the onset of mental illness and severe emotional disturbance.

The majority of psychiatric disorders can be effectively treated. Treatment, which often combines medications with therapeutic and social rehabilitation interventions, can effectively alleviate the severe symptoms of schizophrenia, such as hallucinations and delusions, halt the downward spiral of those experiencing a depressive disorder and stabilize children and adolescents suffering from severe emotional disturbance.

Community support services are a critical component of rehabilitation and recovery. Adults with mental illness benefit from community-based support services that help build self-confidence through learning or relearning living and employment skills. Living independently, building social relationships, getting an education and holding a job are goals for most people with mental illness while others may need supports for long periods to achieve and maintain stability. The goal of treatment is to provide people with mental illnesses the means to achieve the highest degree of independence and productivity clinically possible.

For mentally ill or severely emotionally disturbed children and adolescents, the goal of treatment is to provide symptom relief and to build self-confidence through improved interpersonal, academic, social and vocational skills so that a successful integration or reintegration into family, school and recreational activities can occur. One of the most important components of these services is to provide support services to siblings and parents. These services include teaching the family strategies for managing the child or adolescent's behavior, securing school and other community services that can assist the child and family, and assuring that each family member's needs get met.

HOW TO USE THIS DIRECTORY

The Department of Mental Health has a Central (administrative) Office, located in Boston, with six Area Offices located throughout the state. In addition, there are local service delivery sites within each Area. The Area offices are: Western Massachusetts, Central Massachusetts, North East, Metro Suburban, Southeastern Massachusetts and Metro Boston.

To get information about mental health services, including emergency services,** or the names of key DMH managers serving your city or town:

- 1) Locate the city or town of your residence in the alphabetical listing at the very back of the Directory; the Area is identified in parentheses after the city or town.
- 2) Locate the appropriate Area office from the Table of Contents at the front of the Directory.
- 3) Under the Area office, find your city or town under "Local Service Sites" and contact either the "Person in Charge" or the manager of a specific service. The "Person in Charge" or another manager will be able to provide you with information or direct you to the appropriate resource.
- 4) The name of the Director of Child and Adolescent Services is included under each Area office listing.
- 5) The names of key managers in the Department's Central Office are also listed in this Directory.

**In an emergency, call the Emergency/Crisis 24-hour phone numbers listed for each Local Service Site directly. These numbers provide access to emergency psychiatric services for adults, children and adolescents.

INDIVIDUALS WHO ARE DEAF, HARD OF HEARING, OR SPEECH DISABLED

Individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech of disabled may access any of the Department of Mental Health's offices via the Massachusetts Relay Service (MassRelay). MassRelay is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year, enabling hearing people or people who do not use a text telephone (TTY) to communicate over regular telephone lines with people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled.

A Relay Operator (OPR) will complete your call, dialing the party you wish to contact and then stay on the line to relay messages electronically via a TTY or verbally to people who can hear.

Relay Operators provide exact transcriptions of what they hear and speak what is typed to them, unless the caller directs them to do otherwise. All relay calls are confidential.

MassRelay Numbers

Universal Access	711
TTY	1-800-439-2370
Voice/Speech to Speech Relay (STS)	1-800-439-0183

To Place a Call Using MassRelay

1. Dial 711 in Massachusetts or 1-800-439-0183 from anywhere. TTY users should dial 1-800-439-2370.
2. A Relay Operator will answer the call. Inform the Relay Operator either verbally or via the TTY of the number of the person you are calling and the connection will be made.
3. The Relay Operator will type the spoken words to the hearing impaired person's TTY and read/voice the typed words from the TTY back to the non hearing impaired person.
4. The non hearing impaired person should speak slowly and directly to the hearing impaired person, not to the Relay Operator.
5. The non hearing impaired person should say "Go Ahead" each time they finish their part of the conversation so the hearing impaired person can respond.
